

Chantal Léonard is a highly respected bilingual lawyer with a wealth of knowledge and experience through many years of advising clients on health law and all aspects of professional liability, and through liaising with government, professional associations and regulatory bodies on health-related issues. She has lectured at many professional conferences and at the University of Ottawa at the Faculty of Law and in the Masters in Health Administration program. She holds a Bachelor in Social Sciences with a major in sociology, a Bachelor of Sciences with a major in biochemistry and an L.L.B. from the University of Ottawa.